KLC CONFERENCE HOST CITY'S WELCOME

Dear Friends:

Greetings, and welcome to Louisville!

Louisville is thrilled to be hosting the 2014 Kentucky League of Cities Conference & Expo. We are a city of horses, bourbon, great local food and internationally renowned hospitality. You will find that we are a friendly and vibrant city.

While you are in town, I hope you will take time to really see Louisville. Try one of our restaurants that specialize in local food. (Zagat's recently called us one of eight global foodie destinations.) Visit the center dedicated to our favorite son, Muhammad Ali. Tour the Evan Williams Experience, getting a first-class view (and a taste) of the history of bourbon. And don't forget to stop in at the Louisville Slugger Museum and Bat Factory. If you want some exercise or quiet reflection, take a stroll across our beloved Big Four pedestrian bridge, or a hike at Jefferson Memorial Forest, the largest city-owned forest in America.

Louisville truly has something for everyone. I look forward to sharing our city with my fellow colleagues from across the Commonwealth.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Greg Fischer". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Greg Fischer
Mayor, City of Louisville

KLC CONFERENCE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the 85th annual Kentucky League of Cities Conference & Expo in Louisville. The KLC staff has worked hard and listened to your input to put together a very informative and educational conference this year. For the first time, KLC is offering a defined set of educational tracks focused on particular interest areas, including municipal finance, municipal law, community and economic development, human resources, and courses for city clerks.

It is hard for me to believe that my term as your President is winding down. I have enjoyed my term and have a greater understanding and appreciation of KLC and our services. Our Governmental Affairs Department is the best in the commonwealth. Among all of those legislative victories, I am most proud of the monumental classification bill that was passed this last session.

All of KLC's services, including legal, research, training, finance, insurance, and other member programs have the reputation of being among the very best in the country. This is because of KLC's greatest asset - our outstanding professional staff. Thank you, staff members, for your hard work to put cities first.

The friendships I have developed over the years during my involvement as a Board member and President will be with me for life. I had no idea that as a Mayor of a small city I would ever have the opportunity to lead such a great organization. Thank you for allowing me this honor. Hopefully, the work we have completed in the past few years sets the organization on a clear course to continue its important work of supporting our communities in a way that enhances the entire state of Kentucky.

Sincerely,

Tom Bozarth
President, Kentucky League of Cities
Mayor of Midway

KLC CONFERENCE DIRECTOR'S WELCOME

Dear KLC Members:

Welcome.

First, a little history. It was the year of the Model T, Lindbergh's Transatlantic Flight and Babe Ruth's 60th home run. And 1927 was also the year that 12 Kentucky cities founded what is now the Kentucky League of Cities (KLC).

Their purpose was to come together as a united voice on issues that affected cities. Two years later, KLC held its first annual conference in 1929.

I'm exceptionally proud to be part of an organization whose long history has played a critical part in the success of cities. In recent years, cities have made some history of their own with the passage of the classification reform legislation bill (HB 331) among other key legislative measures.

This year, our KLC conference includes more than 50 workshops and takes a fresh approach with specialized professional tracks. With a focus on community and economic development, branding and creating destinations for business, the 2014 KLC Conference & Expo is a blend of information, ideas, resources and necessary updates. It's also the best place to network, make contacts and meet some of the KLC staff.

We can only wonder what was on that 1927 conference agenda but I'd venture to guess that there was discussion about legislation, legal concerns, the latest ideas and trends and the challenges of running a Kentucky city, minus the smart phones and tablets.

As we begin our 85th annual conference, some of the workshops may be different but the mission of KLC remains the same - to serve as the voice and legislative advocate of cities and provide you with excellent member services, insurance and finance programs.

Thanks for being here. I look forward to talking with you in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jon Steiner". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "J" and "S".

Jon Steiner
Executive Director/CEO
Kentucky League of Cities

GENERAL INFORMATION

City Officials Training Center Award Program

The City Officials Training Center is a voluntary continuing education program administered by KLC. City officials can complete education levels by attending KLC events and by submitting outside training credit from other municipal training. There is no charge to enroll. If you attend a KLC training, your credit is tracked automatically.

Certificate levels in the City Officials Training Center (COTC) are now easier to achieve! Each level still requires 30 hours of training, but the category requirements have been removed with the exception of the one hour of ethics training. The three levels of training include:

- ◆ Level I - Achievement in City Governance: 29 Hours of Approved Courses, 1 Hour of Ethics
- ◆ Level II - Excellence in City Governance: 29 Hours of Approved Courses, 1 Hour of Ethics
- ◆ Level III - Master of City Governance: 29 Hours of Approved Courses, 1 Hour of Ethics
- ◆ Masters Maintenance: 14 Hours of Approved Courses Completed Annually, 1 Hour of Ethics

Every workshop, roundtable discussion, networking workshop, cracker barrel and general session during the KLC Conference & Expo is available for COTC credit on an hour-by-hour basis. For example, if you attend a one-hour workshop, you will receive one (1) credit. Please make sure you are scanned before each event or you will not receive credit. Credits are valid for three years. If you have any questions about the COTC please contact KLC Training Manager, Jessica Miller at jmiller@klc.org or 859-977-3761.

Association Credit

Several workshops have been approved for credit toward the Kentucky Master Municipal Clerk designation, Kentucky Board of Accountancy and Continuing Legal Education.

Conference Identification

Please wear your name badge to all scheduled functions. KLC staff will be scanning badges as you enter meal functions, workshops and other scheduled events.

Welcome to Louisville by Louisville Metro Mayor Greg Fischer

Location: Ballroom A

Presentation of KLC City Advocate of the Year Award to Mayor Fischer.

8:45 a.m. - 10:30 a.m.

Opening General Session: "Revitalize, Rejuvenate and Refresh: The Downtown Idea Book"

Presenter: Roger Brooks, Roger Brooks International

Location: Ballroom A

The success of any community begins on Main Street. Roger Brooks has worked with nearly 1,000 communities throughout North America and abroad. This unique presentation will take you on a visual tour of the best in downtown ideas. Participants will leave with inexpensive ideas that will make their downtowns more exciting, fun, economically viable and sustainable. Brooks will present other sessions throughout the conference. Read more about him at his website: www.rogerbrooksinternational.com.

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Basics of Cyber Security and Protecting City Data

Presenter: Nathan Eisner, Chief Technology Officer, Sophicity

Track: Clerks

Location: Combs Chandler

With the passing of House Bill 5 and the increasing use of technology by cities, the need for awareness about cyber security is greater than ever. This workshop will prepare city staff and elected officials with the non-technical foundation to ensure their city is protecting its data.

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Connecting and Compliance: Using Social Media in Planning and Zoning

Presenter: David Pike, Managing Owner/Attorney, Pike Legal Group, PLLC

Track: General

Location: Breathitt

This presentation will focus on ways that planners and planning agencies can use social media to connect with the public. The social media campaigns of various planning offices across the country will be examined. Topics will include the use of social media for sending public advisories, gathering feedback related to comprehensive plan revisions and distributing general information. The presentation will also discuss legal limitations on social media interactions between planning agencies and the public.

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Creating Legally Compliant Personnel Policies

Presenter: Andrea Shindlebower Main, Personnel Services Specialist, KLC

Track: CLE/Legal and Human Resources

Location: Nunn

All cities should have personnel policies and those policies should be reviewed annually to account for changes in state and federal law as well as the needs of the city. This course provides a comprehensive overview for today's city officials who operate in an increasingly complex employment environment. In addition to reviewing the laws affecting personnel policy and procedures, participants will receive practical information about how to ensure compliance and avoid potential litigation, as well as information on how the new "KLC Personnel Policy Services" program can assist cities in their pursuit of an effective and legally compliant personnel policy.

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Municipal Investing in a Low Interest Rate Environment

Presenter: Tim Peacock, Senior Vice President, MBS Securities

Presenter: Drew Gains, Account Executive, MBS Securities

Track: Finance

Location: Willis

This session will deal with the struggles of Kentucky municipalities trying to obtain the best returns on investment possible in today's economic environment. We will discuss investment strategies and investment products that meet KRS statutes. The session will explore the resources available to make sound investment decisions while maintaining safety and liquidity.

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Things You Can Do Today to Make a Difference Tomorrow

Presenter: Roger Brooks, Roger Brooks International

Track: Community/Economic Development

Location: Carroll Ford

This workshop provides a dozen tips and tricks – inexpensive marketing and community-improvement actions you can implement immediately to increase local spending, attract visitors, extend their stays and increase sales. Using case histories, advertising examples, and dozens of photos, we'll show you how merchants have doubled their sales for just pennies; tricks that will pull customers into your stores and communities; and ways to get everyone on the same page and pulling in the same direction. This is a “must see” workshop for all – local businesses, downtown organizations, city leaders, chambers of commerce, tourism and economic development offices, and elected officials 11:30 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.

TI Response to Resistance Training Simulator

Presenter: Mark Filburn, Senior Law Enforcement Specialist, KLC

Presenter: Troy Pitcock, Law Enforcement Specialist, KLC

Location: Brown

The simulator is a computerized system that projects scenarios onto a screen and officers respond with the appropriate levels of force. Officers are filmed and provided feedback on their actions to include de-escalation (verbal commands) and proper use of weapons to include baton, TASER, pistols, rifles and shotguns.

KLC recently began leasing three TI updated simulator systems that include high definition and advanced technology. We would like to invite all elected officials to experience the various situations that our police officers face on a daily basis.

12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Luncheon

Speaker: Lt. Governor Jerry Abramson

Speaker: Jon Steiner, Executive Director/CEO, KLC

Speaker: Donovan Blackburn, City Manager, City of Pikeville

Location: Ballroom A

This luncheon will be packed with information and news including an update from Lt. Governor Jerry Abramson on initiatives in the governor’s office relevant to cities. KLC Executive Director Jon Steiner will follow with a “State of KLC” update for members. Pikeville City Manager Donovan will also provide an update on Shaping Our Appalachian Region (SOAR), the regional initiative that is seeking to change the economic future for Eastern and South Central Kentucky and the entire commonwealth.

1:00 p.m. – 1:15 p.m.

KLC Annual Business Meeting

Presiding: Mayor Tom Bozarth, KLC President, City of Midway

Location: Ballroom A

1:30 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Critical Mass is More Than a Religious Experience

Presenter: Roger Brooks, Roger Brooks International

Track: Community/Economic Development

Location: Carroll Ford

Over five years, Roger and his team researched 400 successful downtowns and downtown districts in the U.S. and Canada uncovering the 20 most common ingredients that led to their success. At least half of these downtowns are in smaller or rural communities. And of the 20 ingredients, the “Rule of Critical Mass” is the one ingredient every single successful downtown had. People want downtowns more than ever. But because downtowns can’t get property owners on the same page, pulling in the same direction, developers are building new downtowns referred to as Lifestyle Retail Centers, mimicking traditional downtowns. Even malls are now following suit. The one thing they ALL have in common? The clustering of like businesses grouped together. In this lively, and extraordinarily important presentation, you’ll learn the five steps to creating the critical mass that will make your downtown a destination for both local residents and visitors. Told through case histories, Roger will showcase the difference it has made in six downtowns or downtown districts.

Building Cathedrals: The Power of Engagement

Presenter: Greg Coker, Founder, The Cathedral Institute

Track: Clerks

Location: Nunn

“Building Cathedrals: The Power of Engagement” is based on a story that has been told for over 300 years that illustrates the most productive and successful people in life, in business and in city government are those of purpose. And while many have heard a version of this apocryphal story, Greg Coker has discovered the origin of this life-changing story to the world’s most famous architect, Christopher Wren, who was commissioned to rebuild Saint Paul’s Cathedral after the fire of 1666 that destroyed London. Greg Coker captivates audiences as he introduces a powerful metaphor, a “Cathedral,” as something that adds purpose to our lives. He encourages us to not only find our “Cathedral,” but also challenges us to support others in their pursuits and ultimately to see our cities as the “Cathedrals” - places of meaning – for employees, citizens and others. Coker concludes with a list of simple yet powerful examples of how we have the amazing power and the responsibility to touch and inspire others in a deep and meaningful way.

1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

SOAR: Shaping Our Appalachian Region

Presenter: Donovan Blackburn, City Manager of Pikeville,
Managing Director of SOAR

Track: Community/Economic Development

Location: Breathitt

Launched in late 2013 with Co-chairs Gov. Steve Beshear and Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers, SOAR is a multiyear effort to focus on the future success of Southern and Eastern Kentucky by emphasizing public, private and philanthropic partnerships to address and implement improvements in education, health, work-readiness, infrastructure and more. Solutions must be driven and championed by the individuals who call Appalachia home, because it is their enthusiasm and support that will carry these visions to reality. Working within localized groups around key issues, SOAR has already initiated several programs that will bring millions of dollars in investments to eastern Kentucky.

All delegates are encouraged to attend, regardless of what region of the state they are from to learn more about this regional collaboration between all levels of government.

1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

Special Purpose Governmental Entities (SPGEs): New Rules for Financial Accountability

Presenter: J.D. Chaney, Deputy Executive Director, KLC

Track: CLE/Legal and Finance

Location: Willis

Cities create a number of agencies that carry out part of the public functions on behalf of the city government. Those that operate semi-autonomously from the city have new rules and regulations to follow as a result of the passage of House Bill 1 in the 2013 session of the General Assembly. This class will discuss the new reporting rules and accountability requirements of special purpose governmental entities.

1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.

Untangling the Web of Workers' Compensation, ADA and FMLA Laws

Presenter: Sherri Brown Keller, Owner of Fogle Keller Purdy, PLLC

Track: CLE/Legal and Human Resources

Location: Combs Chandler

When employees need time off because of a medical or disability related issue, it is important to remember that they may have rights under all of these laws at the same time. In some cases, provisions of the ADA, the FMLA and the Workers' Compensation Act can apply to the same employee, and employers find understanding their responsibilities under these three laws a challenge. During this workshop, we will (1) discuss eligibility criteria for each, (2) navigate through some of the inconsistencies between the three laws, (3) unravel the competing burdens that each place on the employer to appropriately respond to employee requests for leave and reinstatement, (4) address light duty programs and (5) provide compliance suggestions to the human resources directors implementing the policies and enforcing the various laws.

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m.

Cities and The Public Service Commission: Unwrapping the Puzzle of the PSC's Role in Setting Municipal Utility Rates

Presenter: Gerald E. Wuetcher, Counsel to the Firm Stoll Keenon Ogden PLLC

Track: CLE/Legal

Location: Breathitt

The Public Service Commission significantly impacts many Kentucky cities and their citizens. It regulates the wholesale rates of almost 100 cities that provide wholesale water or wastewater service to water districts or water associations. It also regulates the rates and service of public utilities that provide electricity, natural gas or water service to the citizens of many cities. Few cities, however, are familiar with the PSC or its procedures. This workshop examines PSC's authority over municipal utilities, the regulatory requirements that the PSC imposes on municipal utilities, and the process that the PSC uses to set utility rates. It will briefly review the history of PSC regulation of municipal utilities. It will also review the problems that cities frequently experience when dealing with the PSC and offer possible solutions for avoiding or overcoming those problems as well as strategies for reducing litigation time and expense. Finally, the procedural and substantive issues related to a city's intervention in public utility rate cases on behalf of itself and its citizens will be reviewed.

WATER IS A REAL VALUE

Water is our business. Trust us to help yours.

Reliable, high-quality water service is critical for communities to thrive. We're proud to provide just that for our customers in portions of 10 Kentucky counties. We invest more than $20 million each year in our infrastructure to make sure we provide exceptional service today and well into the future. Our employees have extensive experience and expertise in water treatment and delivery, as well as in water system maintenance and infrastructure renewal.

The quality of tap water we provide is recognized as being among the best in the nation as a result of our long-term, voluntary commitment to the Partnership for Safe Water. Here for you today, there for you tomorrow – you can count on us.

Goodwill

Industries of Kentucky

Deep roots keep us grounded
in Kentucky's communities,
from small towns to big cities.

Since 1923, donations to Goodwill in Kentucky have been used in local communities where they were donated.

Goodwill employs hundreds of Kentuckians with disabilities or other disadvantages, and we place thousands of people across the state into jobs.

We divert millions of pounds from landfills each year by selling your tax-deductible donations in our stores.

Thanks for keeping it local! Visit one (or all!) of our 63 locations in Kentucky.
